DETAILED ACTION

Status of Claims

Claims 1-10 are currently amended.

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 5/11/2009 has been entered.

Information Disclosure Statement

The information disclosure statement (IDS) submitted on 3/19/2009 was filed after the mailing date of the final rejection on 1/14/2009. The submission is in compliance with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.97. Accordingly, the information disclosure statement is being considered by the examiner.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Art Unit: 1793

Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. Claims 1, 6 and 9 recite the limitation that the product contains neither organic nor oxide binder. However, the specification does not provide for this limitation, e.g. paragraph [0007] in the specification as cited by applicant in the response filed 5/11/2009.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 1-3 and 6-8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Minnick (US 3,645,719).

Minnick is applied as discussed in the office action mailed 1/14/2009. The product does not have to contain oxide but can contain carbonate (column 5, lines 7-10).

Claims 9 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by JP 07102302.

JP '302 as applied as discussed in the office action mailed 8/11/2008. The limitation of the solid product containing neither organic nor oxide binder is intended use. While features of an apparatus may be recited either structurally or functionally, claims directed to an apparatus must be distinguished from the prior art in terms of structure rather than function. Additionally, the manner of operating the device does not differentiate apparatus claims from the prior art. See MPEP § 2114.

Art Unit: 1793

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 4 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Minnick as applied to claims 1 and 3 above, and further in view of Anderson (US 2002/0020108 A1)

Minnick discloses the invention substantially as claimed. However, Minnick does not teach the size of the product as in claim 4 or the ratio of the height to the diameter as in Claim 5. Anderson teaches a combustible briquette as described in the office action mailed 8/11/2008. The size depends on a number of factors with a preferred size of 2 in x 2 in (50.8 mm x 50.8 mm) [0020]. The size of the briquette could be greater, which reads on the claimed range of 0.7-0.8. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to expect that the product in Minnick could have the size taught in Anderson, since applying the known technique of making a briquette of a certain size is a design choice. Anderson and Minnick both teach making briquettes with metallurgical dusts.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 5/11/2009 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that Minnick does not teach pressing and reforming dusts. However, Claim 1 is a product by process claim, and even though product-by-process claims are limited and defined by the process, determination of patentability is based on the product itself.

Art Unit: 1793

The patentability of a product does not depend on its method of production. If the product in the product-by-process claim is the same or as obvious from a product of the prior art, the claim is unpatentable even though the prior product was made by a different process. See MPEP § 2113. Claim 6 does not claim the steps of pressing and reforming. The argument with respect to JP '302 is addressed above in the rejection. The remainder of the prior art argued by applicant has been withdrawn due to the amendments to the claims.
